

Abstract

The present invention relates to a new atomiser for nasal or oral application of a medicinal-pharmaceutical aerosol, wherein the active ingredient formulation is always kept under 5 sterile conditions. It is preferred that moisturisers, medicaments and/or wound healing agents are sprayed from the atomiser into the nose or the mouth.